GOVERNMENT DILATORINESS.

Lucas said that it was no good doing more work on the Wajalae road until an 8-inch pipe has been put in by the government. The government, he said, delayed the operations of the Road Department by dilatoriness in doing its share of road repairs. POLICE INCREASED.

The question of the suggested increase in the police force came up for discussion. It was generally admitted that the six officers asked for by Sheriff Brown were needed to properly patrol the town.

Lucas wanted to know where the money was coming from. He didn't want it to come out of road money. Moore said that the matter was just as important as road repairs and strongly favored the granting of the Sheriff's request. A motion that six extra officers be added to the Honolulu force was pass-

Thayer stated that he was thoroughly convinced of Kekauoha's thorough dishonesty and rascality, that he was utterly incompetent and that he should be removed from office.

It was decided to refer the letter of The Anti-Saloon League Important Work Comthat he may obtain the signature of 25 voters of the Koolauloa district asking for Kekauoha's removal for malfeasance, which procedure is provided for by the County Act.

This, however, is not so general an evil as the selling without any license at all, and the Anti-Saloon League agents are said to have found a lot of these cases. Of course, the league people are reticent concerning their work, but it is to be noted that there have been a number of liquor cases tried recently, and the promise is made that the number will be increased rather than diminished until the law and order forces get the better of the Prof. Alexander is himself a member of the Archives Commission, created a statement of the most important in the rural districts on the windward by the last Legislature, and has taken an active interest in the arrangement of the archives. Alexander's History has long been an authority upon old Hawaiian matappear as those of qualified voters in iters, and yet it has been feit that the book, valuable as it is and painstaking as was its compilation, has left something to be desired. It partook, when it was issued, something of the nature of contemporary history. That is to say, there were people then living who if they could not themselves remember reople and events mentioned in the those events in their families. And these stories and inherited memories, in all cases, did not agree with known historical data-but could not upon that account be ignored. This is a small community-and was smaller and more isolated then. It would not do to tell the whole truth about all things. And so it came that, consciously or unconsciously, Alexander's History was a book more or less censored. Conditions have changed, now. Ha wall is a larger and more broad-mind ed community. The historic time is getting a more and more remote perspective. Old things are passing away and the new people want nothing but the truth about those who have gone before. Men can form a more just idea of motives, and there is no power to out bounds to the research of the student of history. And, while Prof. Alexander lives, he is the man of al others to re-write his own history. He new what his limitations were before nd what the proper course will be now o write outside of them. Senators Resolve to Investigate the Boycott, While Advices Indicate that Anti-Foreign Feeling Grows.

(Associated Press Cablegrams.)

WASHINGTON, February 7.-The Senate has passed a resolution providing for an investigation of the Chinese boycott.

ANTI-FOREIGN FEELING SPREADING.

LONDON, February 7 .- Advices received here are to the effect that the anti-foreign feeling is spreading rapidly in China.

All indications, indeed, are to the effect that the Chinese are reaching a state of mind that may call at any moment for interference by the powers, with arms, to protect foreign interests and the lives of foreigners in China. The boycott of American merchandise, which has already led to substantial modification of the manner of the enforcement of the Chinese Restriction Act in this country, is but one manifestation, it is coming to be believed, of the general hostility to foreigners. China has learned from the Russo-Japanese war to think lightly of European troops, and is said by recent observers to have a large force of men drilled and armed after the western manner-and with a growing feeling of nationality among them. More, late advices are to the effeet that this army is to be materially increased, and that $600,000,000 are to be expended in arms and munitions of war. And, if this be true, the world has Several days ago the cable indicated that the opposition to the Libera's in the English Parijament would go to pieces, and so the expected has happened. A late London dispatch says: G. H. Gibbs, Unionist, has resigned his seat in the Commons for the city of London in favor of former Premier Balfour, who has accepted the committee's invitation to become a candidate to represent that constituency. A writ for a new election can not be issued until Parliament meets, so Balfour will not be present at the opening of the House, which will be his first absence from that eeremony for thirty-one years.

REVOLUTIONISTS EXECUTED.

LIBAU, February 7 .- Thirteen revolutionists have been executed here.

While the Czar still seems intent upon his purpose to give his empire representative government, and so effect a peaceful revolution, it is plain that no mercy will be shown to revolutionists by violence. The world will watch Russia more closely than ever, to see whether the forces Nicholas has awakened can really be controlled.

COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE VALENCIA

WASHINGTON, February 7 .- President Roosevelt has ordered a commission to investigate the loss of the steamer Valencia.

The wreck of the Valencia, chartered by the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, with appalling loss of life on the coast of Vancouver Island, is a story to ecent to need recapitulation. The cause of wreck is now under investigation by the Canadian authorities, also, and the two commissions should succeed in placing the blame for the disaster.
